

Datatrak Solutions Ltd Best ICT Company in 2007!

The Computer Society (Malta), during its annual ICT awards ceremony held on the 24th May 2007, awarded Datatrak Solutions Ltd with two prestigious awards: the Merit Award for Research and Development in ICT and the Best ICT Company for 2007.

Datatrak Solutions Ltd, a subsidiary of Datatrak Holdings plc was short listed in three categories: Best ICT Product, with its innovative DispatchIT, Merit Award for R&D, with its cutting edge dynamic route optimization solution RouteIT and Best ICT Company for 2007.

Receiving the Merit Award for R&D on behalf of Datatrak Solutions was Mr Paul Borg Costanzi, Chief Operations Officer and head of Innovation at Datatrak. On receiving the award, Mr Borg Costanzi thanked the CSM for recognizing innovation efforts carried out by Maltese ICT enterprises and thanked the development team at Datatrak that worked long hours for over a year in order to come up with this innovative product which is already in use today in the UK.

The highlight of the awards ceremony was the announcement of the winning company as Best ICT Company for 2007, whereby Dr Austin Gatt, Minister for Investments, IT and Industry, presented the prestigious award to Mr Reuben Portanier, Chief Officer for Strategy and Business Development on behalf of Datatrak. Addressing the ICT community present for the ceremony, Mr Portanier thanked the CSM, all the Datatrak stakeholders, including the Chairman and Board of Directors for their continuous support, the CEO of Datatrak Solutions Ltd for his inspiring vision and all the Datatrak employees who are the pillar of the company in achieving local and international success.

Commenting immediately after the event, Mr Joe Fenech Conti, CEO of Datatrak Solutions Ltd said Receiving the Merit Award for R&D is yet another confirmation of the innovation applied by Datatrak, as this award complements the award received by Datatrak from SAP in December 2006 as being the Most Innovative Maltese Company in 2006. Being awarded as the Best ICT Company is however a very prestigious recognition that rewards our companys ethos as continuously seeking to be the best in all that we do.
