

Birmingham Commercial Vehicle Operator Show

Loqus exhibits its products in Birmingham Commercial Vehicle Operator Show, 13th to 15th April

Vehicle tracking, fleet and workshop management, routing and scheduling, satellite navigation, wireless solutions and communications were all the focus of the latest Commercial Vehicle Operator Show in Birmingham that took place from 13th to 15th April.

We had a very good show. We've seen hundreds of people that were interested in our fleet management solution and made a number of very useful new contacts said the Loqus Deputy CEO Roland Scerri.

Loqus was one amongst the 300 exhibitors on the show that had on offer different solutions ranging from sophisticated fleet management software to tyre pressure monitoring, all trying to help customers to maximise efficiency and improve profit margins. Loqus was present in the show with its UK partner Mix Telematics. Mix Telematics is present in 75 countries and boasts an installed base of approx. 500,000 fleet management and vehicle tracking units worldwide.
